Board of Architecture
Fall 2011

President's Message By Barbara A. Field, FAIA

The members of the North Carolina Board of Architecture attended the National Council of Architecture Registration Boards (NCARB) Annual Meeting in Washington, DC. Several changes took place allowing advancement the of the Council's activities and services to its certificate holders. Below are some highlights of the meeting:

-A resolution modifying NCARB's Model Law regarding Continuing Education was passed. The new Model Law requires 12 hours of HSW Continuing Education with a calendar reporting year of January 1st to December 31st and no carry-over of hours is allowed. Fortunately, the North Carolina rules regarding Continuing Education mirror the new model law so we won't have to make any rule changes. With the assumption that other jurisdictions will adopt Model Law; this will vastly simplify the numerous reporting periods and hourly requirements that now exist among the states. NCARB is working with AIA to negotiate an agreement on Continuing Education requirements between the two organizations.

-NCARB also has a new Chief Executive Officer (CEO). Mike Armstrong of Washington, DC assumed the leadership of the Council as of July 1, 2011. See the article about Mike in the NCARB Happenings section of this Newsletter. In June, Lenore M. Lucey, FAIA, NCARB, retired from her position as CEO. She was a dedicated and diligent leader for NCARB for fourteen years.

-We also have new leadership within Region 3 – The Southern Conference of NCARB represents Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, Puerto Rico, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

The 2011-2012 Regional Executive Committee is as follows:

Kristine Harding/Alabama, Regional Director

Anne Smith/Georgia, Chair

Alfred Vidaurri, Jr./Texas, Vice-Chair

John Cardone, Jr./Louisiana, Treasurer

Robert McKinney/Louisiana, Secretary

Our very own Cathe Evans is currently serving as the Member Board Executive Representative.

NCARB future happenings....

With the election of Ron Blicht, FAIA to President Elect of NCARB, 2012 will be the year of the next "Practice Analysis" of architecture. If you are asked to take part in this practice analysis we hope that you will actively participate as the practice analysis is used to develop the ARE and IDP programs as well as to establish education requirements. NCARB has contracted with PSI Services LLC as consultants for the Practice Analysis process and the first meeting of the taskforce will be in Atlanta, GA on September 25th through 27th.

from the executive director's desk

The Board of Architecture was pleased to be an exhibitor at the North Carolina AIA Design Conference held in Raleigh. It was the first time the Board had a booth at this annual event. The Board staff is grateful for the opportunity to meet so many North Carolina architects and finally put a 'face' with a name. The conference featured noted speakers such as North Carolina Museum of Art architect Thomas Pfeiffer, FAIA, Hunt Library Architect Craig Dykers, as well as Curt Fentress. The AIA-NC also presented its 2011 AIA NC Design Awards. Board of Architecture member Chris Brasier, FAIA was chair of this year's Design Awards Committee.

I was also honored to join Nick Serfass, the Assistant Director of IDP for NCARB, at NC State for a presentation on the NCARB IDP. Nick gave an informative talk about the ins and outs of NCARB IDP to a group of architecture students who were very enthusiastic about their future as architects. Attending the AIA NC Design Conference alongside Nick, gave us the live opportunity to demonstrate how the Board, the AIA and NCARB work together to facilitate licensure as well as protecting the HSW of the public. It also gave us the opportunity to overcome the stereotype of being a big government bureaucracy by showing how accessible we are and how we want work together with candidates and licensees to fulfill their needs and goals.

A reminder for all owners of registered firms – Firm renewal forms for 2012 will be mailed to all currently licensed firms in mid October. Please look for the form to arrive via U.S. Mail. This should not be confused with your individual license renewal. Firm licenses must be renewed by December 31, 2011 or the license will expire. Please be sure to send any 'snail' mail FIRM address changes immediately. An address change form is in the forms section of the Board web site. Questions related to FIRM compliance should be directed to Tyler Barrick at tyler@ncbarch.org

Expired license listing – In the back of the newsletter you will find a list of all individuals whose North Carolina license to practice architecture expired on June 30, 2011. This list includes individuals who, for various reasons, chose not to renew and notified the Board office. If you find yourself (or an associate) on the list and you are currently practicing architecture in this State, you may be in violation of Board rules and laws and may be subject to disciplinary action. If you feel that you are on this list in error, contact Cathe Evans or Julie Piatek immediately. You may renew your license on-line or download a 2011-2012 renewal form from the forms section at www.ncbarch.org

Have you done your Continuing Education? In order to renew your license for 2012-2013 next year you must be able to certify on your renewal that you completed twelve contact hours of HSW related continuing education during the 2011 calendar year. This means that you must complete the hours by December 31, 2011. The Board rules regarding continuing education are found in the rules and laws section of www.ncbarch.org. Specifically, the CE rule is outlined in 21 NCAC 02 .0900. You are responsible for recording your CE, the Board does not do this for you. Questions related to Continuing Education should be directed to Tyler Barrick at tyler@ncbarch.org

The Board of Architecture will hold its annual New Architect Luncheon in November at the Center for Architecture and Design (CfAD). If you were licensed by exam in the past year, you will receive an invitation very soon.

The Board staff announces that they are available to give presentations to your office or group on the Purpose of the Board or other Board related topics such as the ARE or IDP. Additionally, we are happy to meet with your administrative staff, at your place of business or the board office, regarding renewal processes or other administrative functions.

In August I celebrated my 16th anniversary with the Board of Architecture. I'm also proud to tell you that Julie Piatek has celebrated her 10th anniversary on September 1st. Tyler Barrick will celebrate five years with the Board in the spring of 2012. We thank you for the opportunity to serve you, it is an honor.

Sincerely,
Cathe M. Evans
Executive Director

Michael J. Armstrong Assumes the Role of NCARB Chief Executive Officer

Washington, DC—Michael J. Armstrong assumed the role as the chief executive officer (CEO) of the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards (NCARB) at its 92nd Annual Meeting and Conference. In his address to the Council's membership, Armstrong expressed his passion for architecture and noted his engagement with the built environment throughout his career. He pledged a new chapter in the NCARB story—one that will include the Council achieving "new heights on behalf of the nation's health, safety, and welfare."

"While a good foundation is essential to the safety and livability of any structure, it is only the starting point," said Armstrong. He credited the NCARB Board of Directors and the legacy of the outgoing CEO Lenore Lucey with achieving monumental change and positioning the Council for the future.

Armstrong noted NCARB's Strategic Plan and its importance in determining the Council's direction. "Successful implementation of the Strategic Plan, in large degree, rests upon our capacity to relate and communicate," said Armstrong. "We plan to implement this with great vigor, believing that it delivers a necessary package of benefits to the practice, economy, and reputation of the architecture community."

The twin goals of outreach and collaboration have defined Armstrong's professional life. The tenor of his leadership will be "to listen closely and dialogue intensely... and work to build relationships."

Armstrong brings a depth of experience to the Council including more than two decades in executive roles in nonprofit, government, and for-profit organizations. He most recently served as the senior vice president for membership and outreach services at the International Code Council (ICC).

NCARB Board of Directors Examines Strategic Long-range Issues, Approves Revised Budget for Practice Analysis Survey, and Takes Action on ARE Security Breach

- The BOD authorized funding for the next ARE vendor contracts that will continue the momentum toward an enhanced candidate-and-member friendly experience, and will introduce tools for exam development and management in late 2013.
- The BOD approved a revised budget for the Practice Analysis of Architecture Survey. The practice analysis is developed to gather the data needed for future evaluation of and changes to the ARE, IDP, CE, and NCARB's contribution to the 2013 NAAB Accreditation Review Conference. The survey will be sent out in April 2012 to interns, architects, and educators.
- Report on the AIA/NCARB Leadership Retreat President Veazey reported that there was great synergy at the meeting with the leadership from both organizations. A collaborative atmosphere characterized the meeting where the Practice Analysis, IDP, and the CE/Model Law change were discussed. Both organizations committed to a continuity of effort in the future.
- ARE Security The BOD voted to suspend a candidate's ARE test-taking privileges for a period of two years for suspicious activity with a reservation of the right to take additional disciplinary action if further evidence reveals that the candidate disclosed test content to others.
- The BOD voted to adopt revised Policy and Procedures for Testing Irregularities submitted by the Committee on Professional Conduct.

The NCARB BOD meets next in December 2011.

Random FACT...

The Board of Architecture has not increased its renewal fee in approximately 20 years!

expired license report

The Board announced on several occasions that in an effort to be environmentally and fiscally responsible, notice of renewal will be sent via email. By mid May 2011 there were only 25 individuals (out of approximately 5400 licensees) who did not have an email on file with the Board, as a courtesy, we sent those individuals a final paper notice by U.S. Mail. We understand that some of you do not like to renew your license on line, while we will continue to send the notice of renewal via email, we give you the option to download a form from the forms section of the Board web site and pay with a personal check using the postal service.

As indicated in the report from the Executive Director, following you will find a list of individuals whose license expired on June 30, 2011. The first notice of renewal was sent on May 15, 2011 via EMAIL only to the email address as on file with the Board. A second notice was sent, also via email on June 30, 2011. Kathie Rainey of the NC-AIA, as a courtesy, followed up with her members who had not renewed in a timely manner. In some cases individuals on the list were given four notices of renewal. Please note that if you are the individual architect in your firm who is the qualifying officer, shareholder and director, and your individual license is not current, the firm license may have been revoked. As a licensed professional, you are responsible for maintaining your license and renewing on time.
